

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE PREVENTION OF STARVATION

OAKWOOD COLLEGE

WHEREAS, Students from Oakwood College, who are members of the National Association for the Prevention of Starvation and it's marching band, had the inspired idea to drive to New York City, and

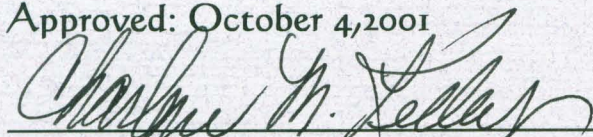

WHEREAS, the city was suffering and in mourning after the "Attack on America" on September 11, 2001, and

WHEREAS, these young people marched through the streets of New York playing "God Bless America", the "Star Spangled Banner" "America the Beautiful" and many other songs and raised a joyful noise, and

WHEREAS, these young people marched to Union Square, Washington Square and to city parks where spontaneous memorials had been set up and played their music, waved their flags and hugged anyone that needed a hug to bring a little brightness into a very gray city,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, the members of GFWC du Midi Woman's Club commend and thank these outstanding young people for their worthy efforts and for being Good Will Ambassadors from the City of Huntsville and exhibiting the true American Spirit of Volunteerism.
